

Jones Day announces that Kenji L. Funahashi is a new partner. The San Diego Daily Transcript covers

Kenji L. Funahashi has joined Jones Day as a partner in San Diego, where he will be part of the firm's mergers & acquisitions practice. He comes to Jones Day from Baker & McKenzie, where he was a partner in that firm's corporate and securities practice group.

Funahashi represents a number of Japanese, Asian and European corporations that engage in investment and business operations in the United States. He has handled more than 35 transactions in the last five years with an aggregated dollar value in excess of $5 billion.

His practice covers a breadth of corporate finance matters, with an emphasis on mergers and acquisitions, private and public equity financing, joint ventures and strategic alliances.

"Kenji is a highly regarded corporate lawyer in San Diego and his experience handling important business transactions between U.S. and Asian companies fits perfectly into our existing M&A practice while his experience in clean tech strengthens our existing IP-centric clean tech practice as well," said Anthony Insogna, partner in charge of Jones Day's San Diego office. Sherwin, Doug. (2010, January 5) The Daily Transcript